

Bilal Sultan is the co-founder and co-president of the La Convivencia youth board. He is a sophomore at WW-P High School North. From a young age, he has had a tremendous passion for social justice. As a co-founder of La Convivencia he wants to develop better relationships between people of different ethnicities and religions and resolve serious issues in our community and throughout the world. He is driven by his sense of responsibility of making the world a better place.

His primary goal is to advocate for social issues, give back to community in every way that he can, and empower the youth to realize that their age should not limit the effect of their voice. When he isn't helping his community, you'll can find him participating in extracurricular activities such as Model Congress, Future Problem Solving, Business Club, volunteering at TASK, and spending time with his family, reading a book, or watching Shark Tank.
