

Zain Sultan is a co-founder of La Convivencia. Currently, he is a second-year student at the University of Michigan studying biomedical engineering. He has spent many hours outside of the classroom to pursue his passion for community service whether it be as a co-founder of La Convivencia, a previous ONE Project Scholar, and a former member of Teens for TASK. In addition to his community service-related activities, Zain also has a passion for the medical field. He is a volunteer at the University of Michigan Cardiovascular Center, and he conducts medical research for the University of Michigan Medical School. In the future, he plans to pursue a career in medicine by combining his passions for the field and community service and make an impact on the world.